Student Progress Measures
What's New for 2011

TPM for TAKS

1. Reporting—In 2011, the reporting of the Texas Projection Measure (TPM) will change.
    a. TPM projections will be reported on Confidential Student Reports (CSRs) only at grades 9 and 10.
    b. The student data files and the TPM calculator will include TPM information for students in grades 3–10.
    c. TPM summary reports will be created and printed only for grades 9 and 10.

TPM for TAKS–M

1. Reporting—In 2011, the reporting of the TPM for TAKS–M will change.
    a. TPM projections will be reported on CSRs only at grade 10.
    b. The student data files and the TPM calculator will include TPM information for students in grades 3, 4, 6, 7, and 10.
    c. TPM summary reports will be created and printed only for grade 10.

2. Adding Grades and Subjects—In 2011, projection equations for grades 3 and 6 mathematics and reading (student data files and TPM calculator only) and grade 10 social studies will be available for students taking TAKS–M, in addition to those equations currently available from 2010. As a result, the TPM for TAKS–M will now have projection equations available for grades 3, 4, 6, and 7 mathematics and reading (student data files and TPM calculator only) and grade 10 English language arts (ELA), mathematics, science, and social studies.

TAKS–Alt Growth Measure

1. Reporting—In 2011, the reporting of the TAKS–Alt growth measure will change.
    a. Only stage change information will be reported on CSRs for students in grades 4–11.
    b. The student data files will include both stage change and on track information for students.
        - Stage change information will be available for grades 4–11 reading/ELA, mathematics, science, and social studies.
        - On track information will be available for grades 4–10 reading/ELA, mathematics, science, and social studies.

2. Adding Subjects—In 2011, stage change information (CSRs and student data files) and on track information (student data files only) will be available for grade 10 science and social studies in addition to those subjects currently available from 2010.
