1. Will the Reading Academies schedule be impacted?

Currently Reading Academies activities are remote and proceeding as planned. We will continue to assess and address timelines on a weekly basis.

At this time, all previously communicated Reading Academies timelines communicated and committed to, are still in effect, in part because Reading Academies was always intended to be an online-accessible experience. One change, however, is that any event that previously was expected to be on-site (i.e. in Austin), such as Cohort Leader Training, is now proceeding under an expectation that the event will be virtual, fully-online and remote.

As a reminder, Reading Academies is structured to allow Authorized Provider and the districts to make decisions that are best for their local context. As those contexts change, Authorized Providers and districts may want to revise planning, including the number of and schedule for cohorts, based on new information.
