

Proclamation 2014

Breakouts for the English Language Proficiency Standards (ELPS)

- The breakouts for the English Language Proficiency Standards (ELPS) for Technology Applications are provided in this document.
- Each of the three subjects included in Proclamation 2014—science, mathematics, and Technology Applications—has its own ELPS breakout document.
- The center column indicates the breakouts that are required in the teacher material, the breakouts that are required in the student material, and the grade levels for which each specific breakout is required.
- If the center column contains the letter T, the breakout is required in the teacher material. The grade span that follows the T indicates the grade levels for which that specific breakout is required in the teacher material (e.g., T: K-8).
- If the center column contains the letter S, the breakout is required in the student material. The grade span that follows the S indicates the grade levels for which that specific breakout is required in the student material (e.g., S: 6-8).
- The grade spans for which a given breakout is required in the teacher material will not necessarily match the grade spans for which that same breakout is required in the student material.
- A center column that contains a T, but not an S, indicates that the specific breakout is required in the teacher material, but is not required in the student material.
- The center column should not contain an S without also containing a T. There are no breakouts that are required in the student material that are not also required in the teacher material.
- If the center column contains NA, the breakout is not required in either the student material or teacher material. For clarity, these breakouts are also shaded.

The English language proficiency standards (ELPS) outline English language proficiency level descriptors and student expectations for English language learners (ELLs). School districts are required to implement the ELPS as an integral part of each subject in the required curriculum. This document outlines the ELPS that have been designated as appropriate for inclusion in instructional materials. The technology applications TEKS for Kindergarten through grade 5 are intended to be integrated into the core content areas. Since the designated ELPS are included in student materials for English language arts and reading, the ELPS are not required to be included in Proclamation 2014 instructional materials for Kindergarten through grade 5 where students are typically taught in self-contained classroom settings rather than departmentalized classes. Additionally, many of the designated ELPS are most appropriate for inclusion in teacher materials and are only required to be included in student materials where specifically indicated.

(c) Cross-curricular second language acquisition essential knowledge and skills

1) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/learning strategies. The ELL uses language learning strategies to develop an awareness of his or her own learning processes in all content areas. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student's level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to:

(A) use prior knowledge and experiences to understand meanings in English	(1) use prior knowledge to understand meanings in English	>>>>>	>>>>>	T: 6-12 S: 6-12

(2) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/listening. The ELL listens to a variety of speakers including teachers, peers, and electronic media to gain an increasing level of comprehension of newly acquired language in all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in listening. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student's level of English language proficiency. (3) Cross-curricular second language acquisition/speaking. The ELL speaks in a variety of modes for a variety of purposes with an awareness of different language registers (formal/informal) using vocabulary with increasing fluency and accuracy in language arts and all content areas. ELLs may be at the beginning, intermediate, advanced, or advanced high stage of English language acquisition in speaking. In order for the ELL to meet grade-level learning expectations across the foundation and enrichment curriculum, all instruction delivered in English must be linguistically accommodated (communicated, sequenced, and scaffolded) commensurate with the student's level of English language proficiency. The student is expected to:
